Division Two

A097107 -- California Advocates For Nursing Homes Reform et al. v. Diana M. Bonta, as Director, etc., et al.

Appellants have produced considerable evidence showing that the departmental policies and practices at issue in this case were intended by DHS to apply generally, not simply in a specific case, and that they implement, interpret and make specific estate recovery provisions of the federal Medicaid Act and state Medi-Cal Act, which DHS administers. Because DHS has not conclusively negated appellants' claim that the policies and practices described in this opinion are not "regulations" within the meaning of the APA, and has failed to demonstrate that there are no material issues of fact that require the process of trial, the trial court erred in granting summary judgment in favor of DHS. Accordingly, the judgment is reversed and the matter remanded to the trial court for further proceedings consistent with this opinion. Appellants are awarded their costs on appeal. Kay, P.J. A098266 -- In re Cody M. et al., Persons Coming Under the Juvenile Court Law. Alameda County Social Service Agency v. Linda M.

As the record does not show that the notice requirements of the ICWA were met prior to the March 22, 2002 section 366.26 hearing, the order terminating parental rights is reversed and the matter is remanded to the juvenile court. If the court determines, on proper evidence, that Kristi is in fact an Indian child, a further section 366.26 hearing must be held. If the requisite notice is given and it is not shown that Kirsti is an Indian child, the existing order is to be reinstated. Stein, J. We Concur: Marchiano, P.J., Swager, J. (Not for Publication.)

A099042 -- The People v. Richard Wilson McClaslin.

Division Two

A093393 -- Zion Lavie et al. v. Procter & Gamble Co. et al.

We conclude that substantial evidence supports the trial court's finding that plaintiff had failed to show the commercials were likely to deceive members of the public, and that the commercials at issue were neither deceptive nor misleading under the UCL or the false advertising law. Therefore, we need not reach issues regarding the availability of restitution relief or the reach of the court's equitable powers in UCL cases. The judgment is affirmed. Respondents are awarded their costs on appeal. Kline, P.J. I Concur: Lambden, J. (See concurring opinion by Haerle, J.) (Certified for Partial Publication.)

Such orders are not appealable. An appeal may be taken only after the trial court has entered judgment in the matter. (See *Stolz v. Division One A094740 -- The People v. Albert Poon.

By the Court: The petition for rehearing is denied. Marchiano, P.J.

A095735 -- The People v. Alexander Garcia Stovall.

As appellant acknowledges, in People v. Engelman (2002) 28 Cal.4th 436, 445, 449, our high court recently disapproved of the instruction and directed “that CALJIC No. 17.41.1 not be given in trials conducted in the future,” but concluded that giving it does not constitute error. We are obliged to follow the binding resolution of this issue by the California Supreme Court, and conclude that the trial court did not commit error by giving CALJIC No. 17.41 to the jury. (Auto Equity Sales, Inc. v. Superior Court (1962) 57 Cal.2d 450, 455; People v. Martinez (2002) 95 Cal.App.4th 581, 586; People v. Superior Court (Moore) (1996) 50 Cal.App.4th 1202, 1211; People v. Jaramillo (1993) 20 Cal.App.4th 196, 198.) Further, appellant has failed to demonstrate that the instruction prejudicially impacted his trial in any way. The record is devoid of a report of misconduct or indication that the jury was affected in any way by the instruction. Thus, appellant was not harmed by the instruction. Accordingly, the judgment is affirmed. Swager, J. We Concur: Marchiano, P.J., Margulies, J. (Not for Publication.)
